

Webstuff at The Unspecialized

Contributed by Alan
Friday, 27 June 2008
Last Updated Tuesday, 08 July 2008

Welcome to Webstuff at The Unspecialized. My name is Alan Carlson. I offer a one stop shop for simple and moderately complex websites for small businesses and the self-employed. I provide the following services, preferably in a bundle, to get you up and running with a website you can use.

- Website design
- Website hosting
- Web content creation
- Editing
- Web consultation

Why go with me? I can really make things easy for you. I can coordinate, create and implement your entire web project so that you can work on what you do. And I'll do this at a competitive price.

If you're interested please email me at webstuff@theunspecialized.com for more information.